"I chose Daniels Trading because they treat you like you are the owner. They cater to the level of each individual trader. It would be easier to say what I don't like about Daniels Trading. Nothing. What more is there to say? 5 stars to the Daniels Trading Team and their services!"

"Daniels offers a wide range of service options, which appealed to me. In addition, given their focus on the needs of the customer, they were the kind of broker that I was looking for. Most importantly, their actions have confirmed those aspirations and have exceeded my expectations".

Joe T.

"Timely execution and reliability was important to me. The platform offered is rich with features and offers full customization. When you factor in the prompt and knowledgeable customer service at your fingertips, the choice was rather easy."

Donna H.

"I was impressed by the assistance, research and technology available. I found the staff very knowledgeable whether it was trading advice, account opening or order execution. My experience with Daniels Trading has added much value to what I can offer to my clients to help them achieve their goals whether trading for hedging purposes, speculation or managed futures. I would highly recommend Daniels Trading based on my experience with them."

Liz S.

"As a new trader, I like the emphasis Daniels places on education and I appreciate the wealth of knowledge and resources Daniels provides on their website including the webinars, commodity news, and email alerts they send to their clients."

Gary F.
Waverly, MN

"The customer service is outstanding. I tend toward trading self-directed online, but when an issue arises (and they do), a qualified broker is immediately available to assist me. All in all, I believe Daniels Trading has the best live futures trading software and customer service available anywhere at any price."

Randall W.
Artesia, NM

"I was attracted to Daniels Trading because of their relationship philosophy. My broker took the time to learn my trading style. I can trust him to always give an honest opinion, to disagree when necessary, and to work my small account as if it were much larger. I have spent a long time looking for a broker I can trust. With my broker and Daniels Trading, I found it."
